Speaking Activities:

What are you doing?

- Students stand in a circle.
- First student mimes a simple, recognisable action (swimming/b'ball/sweeping)
- Second student asks "what are you doing"?
- First student answers but not truthfully so he/she is miming swimming but answers "sweeping".
- Second student now has to mime sweeping (so had to listen carefully) and third student asks "what are you doing?"
- Continue round the circle.

Truth/Lie story telling.

David will tell his "shirt" story as a model

- Partners take turns in telling about some recent event which was memorable
- Partners decide on one of the stories to tell to the wider audience; but the audience has to guess whose story it is. (By asking 3 questions)

Celebrity Heads:

- 2 students sit facing the class and teacher writes an animal name behind each student. Students do not know which animal so have to ask yes/no questions until they guess the name of the animal. When the student gets a "yes" answer they continue to ask further questions trying to discover the name of the animal. When student gets a "no" answer the turn goes to the other student.
- Challenge is to be first to guess the animal (students have different animals; not the same one)

Adverbs of frequency:

- Show model sentences with key adverbs highlighted
- Do partner A and B worksheet.
- A and B are different so careful listening is required.

- Create continuum of the key words.
- Show the game
